MAGGIE'S HOUSE

The Center's mission is to serve and advocate for child victims of abuse through prevention, intervention, and treatment. Maggie's House is named after Maggie Dittman, a little girl from Harlingen who died from abusive head trauma at the hands of her babysitter.

House specialize in conducting videotaped forensic interviews of children between the ages of 2 to 17 who have been physically or sexually abused, or have witnessed violent crime. These non-leading, non-suggestive interviews are conducted in a child friendly environment. The CCCAC offers free therapy services for these children and their non-offending family members.
